

October 3, 2022

Dear Colleagues:

As Chair of the Division on Corrections & Sentencing, I am making a request for sponsors for our events and awards. We are celebrating 23 years as a division! The DCS remains one of the largest (and oldest) divisions with a membership of over 300. The newest edition of our celebrated handbook is out and we look forward to the productive discussions that emerge from this amazing work.

Please consider sponsoring the Division on Corrections and Sentencing. Sponsorships can be in any amount, but most in the past have contributed $2500, $1000, $500, or $250. We will acknowledge your generosity by including the university/organization on our list of DCS sponsors at the breakfast, in our newsletter, and on our website.

If you have difficulty sponsoring groups like ours under your current university or organizational rules, please let me know. I am happy to provide additional documentation including how these events help your university recruit graduate students and/or faculty/employees.

Please let me know if your university/organization will be able to contribute this year, and thank you in advance for considering this request. Additionally, individual faculty can always contribute to DCS in any amount. Please contact me with any questions via email slistwan@uncc.edu

With gratitude,

Shelley Johnson, Ph.D.

Shelley Johnson
Chair, Division on Corrections and Sentencing, of the American Society of Criminology