

Backstage Pass to Alt Skill Building: Navigating the Post-Doc Market

Join us this month as Dr. Kras walks us through the process of a post-doctoral fellowship – from hunting down open positions to deciding on post-post-doc gig! Specifically, Dr. Kras will walk us through the process for putting together fellowship application materials and how to best position yourself for the job. Dr. Kras will also discuss her experience applying for university tenure-track positions. As a member of the selections committee at her current university, she has a lot to share about what universities are looking for in rockstar candidates.

You can contact Dr. Kras to learn more about her post-doc and post-post doc experience at: kkras@sdsu.edu.
