A modern-day renaissance man, Dr. Lovins' work knows no bounds. He's developed model correctional risk assessments while co-directing the University of Cincinnati's Corrections Institute, helped Harris County CSCD implement evidence-based supervision as the Assistant Director, worked with the US State Department to provide leadership training to Prison leaders within Morocco, served on several expert committees, and is continually finding ways to go bigger and innovate more as a Principal at Justice System Partners. Join the AltAc 2021 kickoff and learn more from Dr. Lovins about his journey, how he continues to challenge his own visionary ideas, and how he creatively uses his doctorate.
