

Additional Thoughts and Student Questions for Alt-Ac MeetnGreet with Rockstar: Dr. Faye S. Taxman

Tuesday, October 20, 2020

Katherine Kempny (to Everyone): 11:22 AM: I love that Dr. Taxman reinforces one of our main messages -- the skills are the same in a University setting as well as an Alt-setting! Translation of those skills is just a bit different in various settings.

Katherine Kempny (to Everyone): 11:29 AM: And if/when you go back to a University setting you bring amazing connections with you that other faculty might not be lucky enough to have :)

Patrick Hibbard (to Everyone): 11:39 AM: I have a question about working at nonprofits/think-tanks. Many of these are associated with a particular social or political stance and I worry that taking a job at one may create a "brand" for me that would close other opportunities. [ANSWERED AT END OF PRESENTATION BY DR TAXMAN]

Patrick Hibbard (to Everyone): 12:00 PM: I have a similar question about funders. In my school there was some controversy about taking grant money from people like the Koch Brothers. I have my own stance on this, but would like to know how funding sources can influence a scholar's brand [ANSWERED AT END OF PRESENTATION BY DR TAXMAN]

Katherine Kempny (to Everyone): 11:53 AM: If anyone missed that, those translational writing outlets were Perspectives (journal of APPA) and Federal Probation

Hannah Cortina (to Everyone): 11:59 AM: If I applied for a large grant but did not get awarded, is that still valuable to add to my CV?

Faye Taxman (to Everyone): 12:00 PM: Yes, put them on CV since it shows your productivity

Nili Gesser (to Everyone): 12:00 PM: Could you please repeat the name of the conferences you recommended?
